Outdoor Education

Kids for Nature satisfies the 3 components of Outdoor Education

Going outdoors...

Working in teams...

Using their sense of touch...

Using their sense of smell...

Learning about plants...

A group of children are gathered around a large, weathered log. The log is covered with a large number of small, brown ants. The children are looking at the ants with various expressions of curiosity and concern. One child in the foreground is wearing a blue cap and glasses, looking intently at the ants. Another child to the right is pointing towards the log. The background is slightly blurred, showing more children and green foliage.

Discovering more about animals...

the scary ones...

the icky ones...

and the pretty ones!

What pupils say...

“I love going outdoors!”

A pupil from Bukit Timah Primary School

What teachers say...

“The facilitator shared about how the lessons are supposed to be conducted. Many opportunities were given to ask questions and to clarify our doubts.”

A teacher from Innova Primary School
