AGENDA

- ❖ Our Theme
- ❖ Our Objectives
- ❖ Our Approach

Sharing Our Environment

It is important to inform our next generation the importance of sharing our environment with all living things such as animals and plants.

Informing them about sharing the environment with all living things enable our next generation to be more mindful and be aware of other living things amongst us. It brings a sense of responsibility and the willingness to come forward to care for the environment using their own initiative.

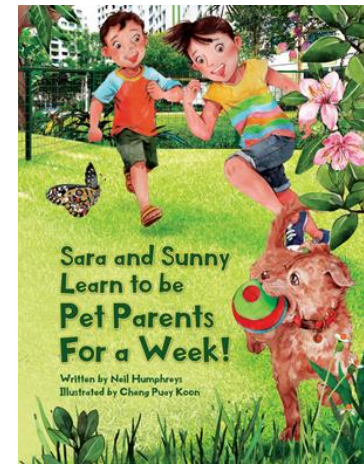

Our Objectives

- ❖ Understand the importance of sharing our environment
- ❖ Take responsibility of other living things
- ❖ Raise awareness to the public of caring for the environment

Our Approach

- ✓ Sara And Sunny Learn To Be Parents For A Week

- ✓ Willie The Whistling Duck Understand Responsible Pet Ownership- Video

- ✓ Usage of posters and powerpoint slides

Our Approach

- Cover all 6 learning areas
- Integrated learning
 - Usage of school's lesson plans
 - Incorporate NP's lessons into our main curriculum

Our Approach- Involvement

Thank you Janette He for taking so much efforts collecting these beds and delivered to Mdm Wong's Shelter and Friends

The doggies love them and for most, it's their first time sleeping comfortably on bed. Some dogs are already old and suffering from arthritis so a bed will be better than lying on cold concrete floor. The weather has been cold lately and the beds came just nice at right timing!

Thank you 🙏

Children's Responses

Pets need a house and food.

They also need toys and pillow.

I like to have a bunny.

We need to spend time with them and bring them out.

I have dogs at home but my aunty is the one who looks after.

We cannot keep pets for fun.

We must hug and love them.

There are different kind of dogs.

We shouldn't buy dogs. Adopt them.

Thank you!
